A HIDDEN TREASURE IN ALENTEJO, PORTUGAL

- 2 HOURS FROM LISBON AIRPORT
- 1 HOUR FROM ÉVORA

With its roots in the year of 1338, Torre de Palma Wine Hotel was born in 2014 inspired by the Roman lifestyle, its production of wine and Lusitano Horse breeding, and Alentejo traditions.

THE HISTORY OF TORRE DE PALMA

From the 1st century to the 5th century the Romans inhabited the Villa of Torre de Palma, and left important figurative mosaics, such as the Choir of the Muses.

In 1338 the property became part of the Portuguese Crown, owned by the son of D. Dinis, protected by the Queen St. Elisabeth.

After the Portuguese revolution of 1974, Torre de Palma became the first collective production unit of Alentejo.

This boutique winery is an ex-libris of the wine culture in Torre de Palma. The vineyards have 7 autochthonous varieties divided into 7 hectares.

Duarte de Deus, an enologist in love with Alto Alentejo, found in Torre de Palma a challenging project, full of history and symbolism. In the vineyards, he identified the small parcels and the bedrock in order to make the most of each variety. In the winery, he believes that only with minimal intervention great wines are produced that reveal, over time, the full potential of the region.
